

Anti-ragging Committee functions:

Awareness Campaigns: Planning orientation sessions and awareness campaigns to educate staff, faculty members, and students on the negative effects of ragging, how to report instances, and what resources are available for victims.

Taking Complaints: Creating a system where employees and students may discreetly report instances of ragging. This might be through direct communication with committee members, and suggestion boxes.

Investigation: Look into any reported cases of ragging as soon as possible, fairly, and impartially. This includes gathering evidence, speaking with witnesses, and getting statements from the victim and the suspected offenders.

Disciplinary Action: Depending on the seriousness of the violation, recommending appropriate disciplinary action such as suspension, expulsion or legal action, against those found guilty of ragging.

Assistance for Victims: Offering assistance and therapy to those who have been subjected to ragging in order to assist them in managing the trauma and to ease their return to the educational setting.

Coordination with Authorities: Working together with regional law enforcement organizations and educational authorities to guarantee prompt and efficient anti-ragging measures and to uphold applicable legislation.

Regular Evaluation and Reporting: Reporting to the appropriate authorities on the committee's actions and results, as well as carrying out routine evaluations of the effectiveness of anti-ragging initiatives.
